Male Victims of Domestic Abuse Awareness

½ day course for multi-agency staff and volunteers across Gwent who may come in contact with men who are experiencing domestic abuse in Wales.

Facilitated by: Safer Wales

While the majority of victims of domestic abuse are women, men do experience abuse and need support. It is often hard for men to get help in these situations because of fears about being ridiculed, or not being believed.

The Safer Wales Dyn project provides support to men who are experiencing domestic abuse in Wales.

This course will enable participants to;

- Understand the issues that male victims experience
- Understand the barriers for men who experience domestic abuse
- How to respond to male victims of domestic abuse

Target group: multi agency staff and volunteers across Gwent who may come into contact with men who are experiencing domestic abuse.
